

Communications: General (RS232)

Recorded data from Portable logger is transferred via a plug in cable connection to the computer

Recorded data from the fixed time clock can be transferred directly to the computer, at a set polling interval.

Eg Every 30 Minutes the logger data is transferred to the computer.